CONTENTS OF VOLUME XVIII

No. 1.

H. OLESEN: Thermodynamics of the cold agglutinin reaction 1
J. BERGSTRÖM and E. HULTMAN: The effect of exercise on muscle glycogen and electrolytes in normals 16
POUL HANSEN and E. MAGID: Studies on a method of measuring carbonic anhydrase activity 21
JAN FOGH: A sensitive erythropoietin assay on mice exposed to CO-hypoxia 33
J. W. DATE: The excretion of lactose and some monosaccharides in the urine in certain pathological conditions 45
B. JOSEPHSON and P. FURST: Sulfonamides competing with bilirubin for conjugation to albumin 51
O. S. LAURITSEN: Some observations on the caseinolytic properties of a purified, activator-free, porcine plasmin preparation 64
O. S. LAURITSEN: The influence of time upon the inhibition of plasmin by normal, human serum 69
O. S. LAURITSEN: Studies on the inhibition of plasmin caseinolysis by human serum and a method for the assay of inhibiting activity 73
P. H. TARUKOSKI: Quantitative spectrophotometric determination of haptoglobin 80
O. SCHARFF and B. WESTERGAARD-BOGIND: Activation by freezing of the adenosine triphosphate-hydrolyzing enzyme system in human red cell membranes 87
N. NÆRAA, E. STRANGE PETERSEN, E. BOYE and J. W. SEVERINGHAUS: pH and molecular CO_2 components of the Bohr effect in human blood 96
OTTO HANSEN: A case of behavior disorder with impaired carbohydrate metabolism .. 103
O. ANDRÉE LARSEN: The hematocrit of the lung in man 112

Technique and Practical Problems:

SIGURD NITTER-HAUGE: Respiratory insufficiency treated with artificial ventilation 119
P. STAVEM: Safeguards against unconscious bias in hematological counting 124
E. J. HOLST: Slide rule for rapid calculation of spectrophotometric data in a three component system 127

No. 2.

J.-F. DYMLING: Separation of serum and placental alkaline phosphatase by agarose gel electrophoresis and sephadex chromatography 129
N. RUD KEIDING: Intestinal alkaline phosphatase in human lymph and serum 134
L. ELDJARN, K. TRY and O. STOKKE: The ability of patients with heredopathia atactica polyneuritiformis to ω-oxidize and degrade several isoprenoid branch-chained fatty structures 141
J. FUNDER and J. O. WIETH: Determination of sodium, potassium and water in human red blood cells. Elimination of sources of error in the development of a flame photometric method 151
J. FUNDER and J. O. WIETH: Potasium, sodium and water in human red blood cells 167
K. EGEBLAD and T. ASTRUP: Fibrinolysis and the trypsin inhibitor in human urine 181
K. GRAF: Increased blood flow variability in the forearm and hand in patients with vasoregulatory asthenia (VA) 191
G. LUNDBLAD and E. HULTIN: Human serum lysozyme (muramidase). I. Viscosimetric determination with glycol chitin and purification by selective adsorbtion 201
E. GJONE and O. M. ORNING: Plasma phospholipids in patients with liver disease. A quantitative thin layer chromatographic study 209
T. NISHIMURA and L. R. GJESSING: Studies on urinary phenolic compounds in man. III. Excretion of o-tyramine 217
L. R. GJESSING and O. BORUD: Studies on urinary phenolic compounds in man. IV. o-tyrosine and its metabolites 221
J. O. ALVSAKER: Uric acid in human plasma. V. Isolation and identification of plasma proteins interacting with urate 227
H. HVID HANSEN: Sephadex binding of ^{131}I-labelled l-triiodothyronine as a test of thyroid function 240
F. PEDERSEN and O. BAERENHOLDT: Mean circulation time and fastest circulation time for red cells and plasma in the human kidney measured by an external counting method 245
E. CHRISTOFFERSSON, Y. EDLUND, R. GAMKLOU and L.-Å. NILSSON: Microbiological activity of sulfaproxyline-sulfamerazine in gallbladder bile from patients with gallstone disease 254

Letters to the Editors:

P. STAVEM: The reproducibility of capillary fragility tests 261

No. 3.

E. GJONE: Plasma phospholipids in ulcerative colitis. A quantitative thin layer chromatographic study 263
S.-E. LINDELL and H. WESTLING: The hepatic removal of ^{14}C-histamine from the blood in man 268
R. BACHMANN: Studies on the serum γA-globulin level. IV. Conditions with pathological proteins (M-components) in serum 273
R. BACHMANN: The serum γM-globulin level in healthy subjects, hypergammaglobulinemic patients and conditions with pathological proteins (M-components) in serum .. 280
A. BRENDSTRUP: Regional lung function studies with intravenous ^{133}Xenon 289
J. LADEFOGED: Measurements of the renal blood flow in man with the ^{133}Xenon wash-out technique. A description of the method 299
L. BRUNES and A. HOLMGREN: Total airway resistance and its relationship to body size and lungvolumes in healthy young women 316
P. G. BURHOL, J. MYREN and O. P. FOSS: Electrolytes in gastric juice of man. I. A statistical analysis of calcium and inorganic phosphorous before and after subcutaneous injection of large doses of histamine 325
P. G. BURHOL, J. MYREN and O. P. FOSS: Electrolytes in gastric juice of man. II. A statistical analysis of magnesium before and after subcutaneous injection of large doses of histamine 331
P. G. BURHOL, J. MYREN and O. P. FOSS: Protein and total nitrogen in gastric juice of man before and after subcutaneous injection of large doses of histamine. I. A correlation to the volume rate and total HCl 335
P. G. BURHOL, J. MYREN and O. P. FOSS: Protein and total nitrogen in gastric juice of man before and after subcutaneous injection of large doses of histamine. II. A correlation to potassium, sodium, calcium, and inorganic phosphorus 339
M. FARSTAD: Determination of fatty acids in cerebrospinal fluid. V. The fatty acid content in the total lipids of cerebrospinal fluid in psychiatric patients 343
E. MAGID and POUL HANSEN: The erythropoietin content of plasma from sheep treated with nitrogen mustard 347

Technique and Practical Problems:

P. WALLØE HANSEN: A simplification of Kind and Kings method for determination of serum phosphatase 353

Letters to the Editors:

VIBEKE BITSCH: A modification of the Hunt method for estimating peptic activity in gastric juice 357
C. D. JACOBSEN: A family with low proteolytic capacity in plasma, probably related to a low plasminogen content 359

No. 4.

R. BRODERSEN: Bilirubin diglucuronide in normal human blood serum 361
K. MELLEMGAARD: Disappearance of oxygen from shed blood at various temperatures 380
H. DAM, I. KRUSE, H. E. KALLEHAUGE, O. E. HARTKOPP and M. KROGH JENSEN: Studies on human bile. I. Composition of bladder bile from cholelithiasis patients and surgical patients with normal bile compared with data for bladder bile of hamsters on different diets 385
K. ROOTWELT: Direct intravenous injection of ^{51}chromic chloride compared with ^{125}I-polyvinylpyrrolidone and ^{131}I-albumin in the detection of gastrointestinal protein loss 405
L. S. SEMB: Potassium, sodium, and chlorides in gastrin-stimulated gastric secretion in man 417
L.-M. GUNNE and H.-F. LIDVALL: The urinary output of catecholamines in narcolepsy under resting conditions and following administration of dopamine, dopa, and dops 425
P. INGERSLEV, O. ANDRÉE LARSEN and N. A. LASSEN: Measurement of the colloid osmotic pressure in serum with Tybjærg Hansen's osmometer 431
K. KIRKEBY: Total lipids and lipoproteins in animal species 437
P. HELLUNG-LARSEN, K. KJELDSEN, K. MELLEMGAARD and P. ASTRUP: Photometric determination of oxyhemoglobin saturation in the presence of carbon monoxide hemoglobin, especially at low oxygen tensions 443
P. ASTRUP, P. HELLUNG-LARSEN, K. KJELDSEN and K. MELLEMGAARD: The effect of tobacco smoking on the dissociation curve of oxyhemoglobin. Investigations in patients with occlusive arterial diseases and in normal subjects 450

Technique and Practical Problems:

T. ARONSSON, G. ARTURSON and G. WALLENIUS: Determinations of serum protein in the presence of dextran 458
I. RUNDE: A standardized direct method for total cholesterol determination in serum with a combined reagent 461

No. 5.

C. FURBERG and C.-F. TENGBLAD: Adrenergic beta-receptor blockade and the effect of hyperventilation on the electrocardiogram 467
S. BEVEGÅRD, E. CLONTZAS, B. JONSSON and I. KARLÖF: Deviation from basal state during catheterization of the right and left sides of the heart 473
R. HELLSTRÖM and A. HOLMGREN: On the repeatability of submaximal work tests and the influence of body position on heart rate during exercise at submaximal work loads 479
Å. GRENVIK: Errors of the dye dilution method compared to the direct Fick method in determination of cardiac output in man 486
D. LOCKNER: Quantitation of erythropoiesis by a new method. I. Studies on healthy subjects 493
D. LOCKNER: Quantitation of erythropoiesis by a new method. II. Studies on cancer patients 502
S. A. EVENSEN, M. JEREMIC and P. F. HJORT: The effect of endotoxin on factor VII in rats: In vivo and in vitro observations 509
U. ABILDGAARD: Acceleration of fibrin polymerization by dextran and ficoll. Interaction with calcium and plasma proteins 518
I. F. LINDBJERG, A. M. ANDERSEN, O. MUNCK and M. JØRGENSEN: The fat content of leg muscles and its influence on the ^{133}Xenon clearance method of blood-flow measurements 525
L. E. I. LARSSON: Non-labelled vitamin B_{12} as a dilution indicator in gastrointestinal research 535
L. R. GJESSING: Studies on urinary phenolic compounds in man. V. Homovanillic and vanillylmandelic acids in children without functional neural tumors 540
P. KOSKELO and I. TOIVONEN: Separation of urinary coproporphyrin isomers I and III by thin-layer chromatography. Studies in healthy subjects and patients with myocardal infarction 543

Technique and Practical Problems:

K. SJÖVALL and B. JERGIL: Coupled enzyme reactions in polyacrylamide gels: Isoenzymes of serum ATP: Creatine phosphotransferase. 550
K. LIEWENDAHL, L. G. TALLGREN and J. RUSK: Separation of inulin from chemically interfering dextrans by gel filtration 553
G. O. STEEN: Rapid identification of barbiturates in blood by thin layer chromatography on microscope slides 557
M. KORSGREN, E. LESKINEN, U. SJÖSTRAND and E. VARNAUSKAS: Intracardiac recording on monophasic action potentials in the human heart 561

Letters to the Editors:

L. R. GJESSING and A. TORVIK: Distribution of cystathionine in human brain 565

No. 6.

K. EGEBLAD and T. ASTRUP: Fibrinolysis and the bovine lung trypsin inhibitor ("pulmin") 567
N. O. SOLUM: Platelet aggregation during fibrin polymerization 577
K. BONDRUP, N. KØSTER, F., QUAADE and H. ROSENVEN: Gas chromatographic analysis of human subcutaneous fat 588
K. B. BJØRNESJØ, MAKONNEN BELEW and B. ZAAR: Biochemical study of advanced protein malnutrition in Ethiopia 591
R. THAM: Liberation of histamine in man. Gas chromatography of ring methylated imidazoleacetic acids in urine 603
O. SJAASTAD: Urinary excretion of free and conjugated histamine in healthy individuals 617
P. JUUL: Quantitative measurements of individual free amino acids in urine by means of high voltage paper electrophoresis. Investigations of a group of mentally retarded patients 629
L. R. GJESSING, M. MAEDA, O. BORUD and E. J. VELLAN: Studies on urinary phenolic compounds in man. VI. Excretion of p-hydroxy-mandelic acid by man and dog 638
A. GOTTFRIES, T. SCHERSTEN and P.-H. EKDAHL: The capacity of human liver homogenates to synthesize taurocholic and glycocholic acid in vitro. An experimental study in patients with presumably normal liver function 643
B. KUHLBÄCK and O. WIDHOLM: Plasma creatinine in normal pregnancy 654
M. FARSTAD and O. E. SKAUG: Interrelationship between blood sugar, plasma free fatty acids and plasma 17-hydroxycorticosteroids in mental patients before and after insulin administration 657

Technique and Practical Problems:

O. SIGGAARD-ANDERSEN: A simple semiautomatic ultramicro pipet 666
S. LAURELL: A method for routine determination of plasma triglycerides 668
B. KNUTSEN, P. LUND-JOHANSEN and E. HATLETVEIT: A linearly responding monochromatic cuvette densitometer for indocyanine green 673
J. KAHAN: A method for the fluorometric determination of vitamin A 679

Letters to the Editors:

J. KRØLL: Influence of bile salts of the lysis of ^{131}I-labelled plasma clots in human subcutaneous tissue in vivo 691
L. R. GJESSING: Nomenclature of the metabolites of the aromatic amino acids 693
L. ELDJARN, O. STOKKE and K. TRY: Alpha-oxidation of branched chain fatty acids in man and its failure in patients with Refsum's disease showing phytanic acid accumulation 694

INDEX OF AUTHORS, Vol. 18 696
INDEX OF SUBJECTS, Vol. 18 700

SUPPLEMENTS TO VOLUME XVIII

Suppl. 87. KNUT WESTLUND and RAGNAR NICOLAYSEN: Serum cholesterol and risk of mortality and morbidity. A 3-year follow-up of 6,886 men.

Suppl. 88. TORSTEN RINGQVIST: The ventilatory capacity in healthy subjects. An analysis of causal factors with special reference to the respiratory forces.

Suppl. 89. C. J. AMRIS: Activator-free porcine plasmin. Investigations concerning activator-free porcine plasmin.
I: The antithrombin activity and fibrinogenolytic effect of plasmin.
II: The effect of plasmin on coagulability and clotting factors.
III: Definition and determination of the plasmin tolerance.
C. J. AMRIS, VAGN LARSEN and J. BRØCHNER: Scheme for fibrinolytic treatment with activator-free porcine plasmin.
VAGN LARSEN, C. J. AMRIS, J. BRØCHNER and O. STORM: Firbinolytic treatment with activator-free porcine plasmin. (Problems concerning administration, antigenicity, toxicity, and treatment control.)

Suppl. 90. ROLF ROKSETH: The effect of altered blood carbon dioxide tension and pH on the human pulmonary circulation.

Suppl. 91. SAKARI NÄRVÄNEN: Chemical and hematological changes during extracorporeal circulation. Observations made on children submitted to surgery for congenital heart disease.

Suppl. 92. CLINICAL ASPECTS ON LIVER FUNCTION AND GALACTOSE METABOLISM. A symposium on liver morphology, physiology and biochemistry and the diagnostic use of galactose intolerance tests in liver disease.

Suppl. 93. J. H. SOLEM: Plasma corticosteroids in mice. With special regard to sex difference in adrenocortical responsiveness to exogenous corticotrophin.
